LIVER WORT.

This plant has, for many years, been found to be of singular virtue in the cure of affections of the Liver. More recently it was ascertained that it possessed great power in arresting Bleeding at the Lungs, Coughs of a chronic character, &c., and of essential service in all diseases of a pul.nonary character.

TAR.

This article is now universally acknowledged to be the most healing and efficient They are prepared to make them up to orapplication for diseased or decaying lungs, or any portion of the fleshy or muscular parts of the human body. Its medicinal and preservative qualities were understood by the Egyptians in the early ages of the world, and no doubt now exists among scy entific men, that the preparation used in the embalmment of bodies, was composed principally of this ingredient. In later ages, it was found to be in universal use among the aborigines of America, and at this day it is their principal, and, in fact, only medicine for an unsound state of the lungs, or any approach to it. Those who are acquainted with the history of this hardy race of men, know that a death from Consumption is unknown among them! The medical faculty in all countries appear to have become aware of the great healing properties of this article, and are now introducing it in their practice. Dr. Buchan, of England, Dr. Crichton, of St Petersburg, Dr. La Prieure, of Paris, and the distinguished Dr. Cooper, have been in the habit of combining it with other articles in their prescriptions, and with entire success

Blackwood's Magazine,

BRITISH QUARTERLY REVIEWS. Owing to the late revolutions and counter-revolutions among the nations of Europe, which have followed each other in such quick succession, and of which "the end is not yet," the leading periodicals of Great Britain have become invested with a degree of interest hitherto unknown. They occupy a middle ground between the hasty, disjointed, and necessarily imperfect records of the newspapers, and the elaborate and ponderous treatises to be furnished by the historian at a future day. Whoever reads these periodicals obtains a correct and connected account scribed and made oath to the foregoing cer- of all the important political events of the old world, as they occur, and learns the various conclusions drawn from them by the leading spirits of the age. The American Publishers therefore deem it proper to call renewed attention to the works they republish and the very low prices at which they are offered to subscribers. The following is their list, viz: The London Quarterly Rop w, The Edinburg Review, The North British Review, The Westminster Review, views, moderately, though clearly and the New Volume. firmly expressed, of the three great parties in England-Tory, Whig, and Radical-"Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory; the "Edenburgh Review" Whig; and the "Westminster Review" Liberal. The "North British Review" owes its establishment to the Scotland, and is not ultra in its views on any one of the grand departments of human knowledge; it was originally edited by Dr. Chalmeus, and now, since his death is conducted by his son-in-law Dr. Hanna, associated with Sir David Brewster. Its literary character is of the very highest order. The "Westminister," though reprinted under that title only, is published in England under the title of the "Foreign Quarterly and Westminster," it being in fact a union of the two Reviews formerly published and reprinted under separate titles. It has therefore, the advantage by this combination, of uniting in one work the best features of both as heretofore issued.

AND Blackwood's Edinburgh Mitgazine.

The above Periodicals are reprinted in New York, immediately on their arrival by the British steamers, in a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals Błackwood's Magizine being an exact fac-smile of the Edenburgh edition.

PROSPECTUS OF THE DEMOCRATIC REVIEW. 21st. Volume. Price Reduced-Matter Increased. $3.

In commencing the 21st volume of the Review, we have to acknowledge the continuance of a liberal patronage on the part of the public, and an enthusiastic response = om the democratic party, to those great principles of National Policy, which it is our endeavor to elucidate. We have entered into extensive arrangements for a great variety of novel and interesting matter, that CEORGE H. GORDON and Carnel In these periodicals are contained the will add to the attraction and value of sive publication, the "Souvenirs of the ties of Wilkinson, Adams and Amite, and life of Gen. Court Montholon," beginning with his first campaign under High Court of Errors and Appeals at Jack gen. Dumourier, at the commencement of the French revolution of 1789, and closing with his late imprisonment with last great ecclesiastical movement in Prince Louis Napoleon, at Ham. It will comprise the most extraordinary revolutions of the wonderful epoch he has lived and acted in, that has ever been given to the public, disclosing singular traits of the private life, intrigues tions, &c., of all the Sovreigns, Chief Ministers and Marshals, who moved with all the vividness and variety of a brilliant panorama, around the great central luminary, Napoleon.

Secondly-We are in treaty for a remarkable work on England, to be published exclusively in the Democratic Review. This may be counted on as forthcoming.

FOURTH-We have contracted with foreign writers of great ability, and enjoying exclusive opportunities, for occasional Reviews of the politics and literature of Europe.

And Last—We shall give from time to time some able papers from our own more distinguished writers.

The accustomed features of the Review will be continued, including portraits and biographies of distinguished Democrats-men whose patriotism and steadiness of principle have won the confidence of the people. We have to remind our readers that the low terms on which we furnish the Review, can be maintained only by the subscription in advance, and that the and extent of the business, but always me expenditure incurred to improve the erate. Address, H. C. SPALDING, At work, can be met only by the prompt remittance of aubscription

The publication of the Review has eebn committed to the charge of Mrt John W. Moore, who has been connected for the last eight years, with the publishing department of the "Merchant's Magazine," and whose experience and well-known energy will no doubt exert a favorable influence on the business, &c., of the Review.

All subscriptions and letters on business will hereafter be addressed to J. W. Moore, office Democratic Review, 170 Broodway.
